ARMENIA LOSES BY STARVATION

(Correspondence Associated Press)
LONDON, May 22.—I have seen towns where there were 7000 refugees losing 1000 of them monthly through starvation. I have seen a town 30 miles from the railroad reduced by starvation from a population of 4000 to 2000 in ten days.

That is what is happening in Armenia, according to Lieutenant Melville Chater of the American Red Cross, who has arrived in London after an extensive tour of the near east.

Conditions there, he told The Associated Press representative, are simply appalling. The people are in rags. Disease, no less than starvation, is taking a heavy toll, and it is difficult to check its spread because there are no medicines or disinfectants to be had. The people will have to be fed by outsiders, he said, until the harvest which follows the next sowing.

The new Armenian state known as the republic of Erivan is a country so despoiled by the Turks, the Red Cross officer stated, that it does not possess even any seed grain.

"During the war," he said, "the Turks made systematic attempts to destroy the Armenian people. They forced their way through Armenia with the intention of joining forces with the Tartars of the north, massacring and committing widespread depredations as they marched. On their way back they swept Armenia clean for the Armenians at the time of the armistice had only 22,000 soldiers in the field. The Turks wantonly destroyed everything in their path. The result is that the Armenian republic has no cattle, seed grain, flour, nothing at all to eat."

The American committee for relief in the near east is making every effort, according to Lieutenant Chater, to succor the starving Armenians. From February 8 to April 1, with the aid of the American Red Cross, it put into the country 5000 tons of flour. Distribution is a different problem. Food is carried to interior points by native bullock carts.

While the Erivan republic is starving, its neighbor, Georgia, is thriving. Throughout the country Lieutenant Chater said he saw fine grazing lands and large herds and flocks. The Georgians were not molested by the Turks and the country has had to deal with few Armenian refugees except those at Tiflis, to which city Turkish Armenians have fled since 1915. Tens of thousands of Armenian orphans are now there.

"The Armenians are praying for an American mandatory. They think they would never be free under any other government," said Lieutenant Chater.

PROVES ALIBI AND RELEASED

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—Following the presentation in Justice Forbes' court of a complete alibi, Robert W. Haddon, mining engineer and a member of the Royal Colonial Institute, accused of grand larceny of an envelope containing $950, was discharged yesterday. After presenting his case, Arthur Keetch, attorney for the defendant, criticised the district attorney's office for issuing a complaint against Haddon when it was known that the man who lost the money had left for London.

It was shown that David Lewes, a principal and representative of the Ural Mountains Navigation and Mining Corporation, Ltd., of London, came from that city upon the representations of J. T. Barrett, a partner of Mr. Haddon, to consult with the latter regarding the purchase of oil lands in Mexico. The deal was closed, as said Mr. Keetch, except the verification of titles, and Mr. Lewes prepared to leave on June 7. On June 5, in the presence of Mr. Haddon, he placed $950 in an envelope and left it with a day clerk at the Clark hotel. The next morning the money, according to H. M. Beam, a night clerk, was taken by a man who said he was Mr. Lewes. He later said this man was Mr. Haddon, but yesterday Mr. Haddon showed that he left Mr. Lewes at 9:55 o'clock that night and went home, that he was awakened at 7 o'clock the morning of the theft by his daughter and left Moneta, where he lives, and at 9:15 o'clock in the morning came to this city.

Though Mr. Haddon was discharged by the court, the mystery surrounding the theft remains unsolved. Mr. Lewes had to leave the day of Haddon's arrest, to catch a steamer at New York.

ILLICIT STILLS ARE KEPT BUSY

(Correspondence Associated Press)
DUBLIN, May 19.—The high tax on whiskey has increased the activity of the Irish potheen makers and the hunt by police and excise agents for illicit stills is constantly maintained. During the past year the official report shows that 412 illicit distilling plants were discovered by the customs and excise officers in Ireland and only two in Scotland.

LOVELOCK MAN IS ENTHUSIASTIC

Returning this week from a month's stay in the Divide district, W. S. Robinson, well known early day mine operator of Rochester, gives the Lovelock Review Miner his opinion that the big boom for this section and, in fact, all Nevada mining sections, will come in the fall. He said:

"Divide has not really boomed yet, though it is one of the biggest excitement I have ever seen, and the camp is a large one and there are so many properties that are known to be within its limits that there are likely to be a great number of producing mines when the proper depth is reached. Two hundred outfits are operating there now."

"Take the Rand property, which I understand was financed in Lovelock. I believe it is strictly inside ground and has excellent chances of setting the big vein at depth from its superior location. They have a shaft down about sixty-five feet and are taking out milling ore. The composition and color of their ore is identical with that of the big strike and it is expected that when more depth is attained the value will increase."

Mr. Robinson was one of the Big Four Leasing company who opened up the Rochester mine and is a mining man of broad experience. He expects to return to the Divide in a few days to close up a deal for some mining ground there.

"I knew Mr. Lewes was going away," said Mr. Keetch, "and they knew they could not prove the case without him. This is an outrage under these circumstances any man is liable to arrest. With Mr. Lewes away, the dismissal of the case in a preliminary examination makes it impossible for Mr. Haddon to properly clear up the case. As a matter of fact he was with his family at the time of the theft."

OLD SOLDIERS FORFEIT RIGHT

(Correspondence Associated Press)
ROME, May 6.—Discharged members of the American expeditionary force of Italian extraction have been besieging Consul Francis Keene's office here recently requesting passage back to the United States on the grounds of being United States citizens and of having served in the United States army. Employees of the office attending to the lot of those discharged soldiers immediately demand to see their discharge papers. After examining them they indicate to the men that they have waived the responsibility of the government in providing transportation when they received their discharges, for there is one clause on the back of the paper which clearly explains that procedure.

"Oh," reply the men, "but my commanding officer did not explain that to me when I asked for a discharge."

"That will do oldtimer," retort the consul general's assistants. "Your commanding officer certainly sold you that and now we can do nothing about it."

The men in every case secured their discharge to visit their parents or other relatives here for an indefinite period and thereby waive right to return transportation.

Possibly the allies cannot try the Kaiser, but they might make the effort, eh?
